CONSULTANT

- Bachelor of Social Science, Human Services / Disability – Edith Cowan University

Jodi has partnered with GoodRun Solutions to bring her 24 years of hands-on experience in the disability sector into the team.

Are you looking for a consultant with a comprehensive working knowledge of the NDIS environment from a service provider's perspective?

Jodi offers a broad range of consultancy services that include:

- Translating NDIS plans into service plans
- Designing and implementation service onboarding and delivery models
- Alignment of internal processes with NDIS reporting systems and price guides
- Facilitating education and information strategies for individuals, families, carers and staff
- Creating a culture of customer and service excellence within organisations

Jodi's most recent role as Manager/Client Acquisition (metropolitan and regional) for a major Western Australian based disability service organisation included the following tasks:

- Leading service design initiatives across core registration groups including assistance with daily life and therapeutic supports.
- Expanding service offering into regional areas
- Ensuring the transitioning and onboarding of individuals in alignment with the NDIS
- Facilitating the readiness of staff to implement NDIS based service models

Jodi's strength as a consultant lies in her ability to collaborate with an organisation's team to design and implement sustainable service delivery models that reflect those individuals that your organisations supports and your organisation's culture.
